SUPPORT THE HEALTH AND WELFARE LEAGUE

On next Thursday afternoon, at three o'clock, the annual meeting of the Bourbon County Health and Welfare League for the election of officers will be held in the County Court room.

Every white person in Paris and Bourbon county over sixteen years of age, who is not already a member, is invited and urged to become a member of the League. This work has been carried on for the past eight years by just a few men and women of the community, and while words of approval are greatly appreciated, new and interested workers are needed.

It is generally recognized that the League has been a success and has now become a necessity, but the question arises: Are the citizens of the county doing their part, and how long would the League have continued in existence if it had been dependent upon their contributions of time and money?

The time of the year for replenishing the treasury of the League is also at hand and a new plan has been devised, which, if successful, will enable it to do new and more efficient work. The merchant, the farmer, the professional man, are asked to come into the League as "$10.00 Members." They are asked, men and women, to come in now as a "$10.00 Member," or at least as a regular member, and give their money and co-operation in this most necessary and worthy work.

Remember the date and place of meeting, the County Court room in the Bourbon county court house, at three o'clock, Thursday afternoon, October 5. If you find it impossible to come there, leave your dues at the First National Bank.

AN ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF APPRECIATION

The Woman's Society of the Paris Christian church gratefully acknowledges the courtesy of the Parks & Sweeney Company, of Lexington, who so generously presented the coffee, and served same, for the dinner given at the old Cane Ridge church, on Friday, September 29.

MRS. J. B. CLAY, President.
MRS. THOS. W. ALLEN, Sec'y.

OFFICERS ARREST ALLEGED MOONSHINE-PEDDLER

Bill Rankin, colored, residing near Paris, was placed under arrest on the Georgetown pike, near this city, early Sunday morning by Sheriff M. Peale Collier and Deputy Sheriff Jas. Gibson, charged with having moonshine whisky in his possession, and taken to the county jail.

The officers were looking for Rankin, and finally encountered him near the intersection of the Georgetown and Cynthiana pikes, approaching Paris. He was commanded to stop, and when the machine was searched, a pint of whisky was found in it. Just before the officers approached Rankin tossed a pint bottle into the weeds at the side of the road. This was found by the officers, and contained a quantity of moonshine whisky. Another half-pint was found concealed in the weeds near the roadside. When the search was made a revolver was also found on Rankin's person. Another charge of carrying concealed a deadly weapon was registered against him.

CLEAN-UP SHOOT

The Bourbon Gun Club will hold their regular shoot to-morrow (Wednesday) afternoon. The trophy for their shoot will be $10.00 in trade, donated by Grinnell Bros. This will be a good chance for some shooter to "clean up" his old clothes. We will have only three more shoots, as the traps will be closed for the season on November 1. Visitors always welcome.

ROXIE DAVIS, Secretary.

PARIS VOTERS MUST REGISTER.

Voters residing in Paris voting precincts must register Tuesday, in order to be eligible to vote in November, and at all special primary and regular elections for the next year. The general registration law declared invalid by the Court of Appeals in July did not affect city voters, who must register as heretofore.

CANE RIDGE PILGRIMAGE CLOSES CHURCH CONVENTION

A crowd estimated at approximately 2,500 gathered Friday morning at old Cane Ridge church to pay tribute to the memory of Barton Warren Stone, forerunner of Alexander Campbell, recognized founder of the Christian denomination. The program was given from a platform which had been erected from a side window of the historic church. The building was crowded with those who wished to be seated, yet the great mass of those present stood on the outside. This was the closing session of the nineteenth annual convention of Christian churches in century.

The Rev. W. E. Ellis, chairman, introduced the first speaker, following music by the Christian church choir, a prayer by the Reverend McGarvey, Mrs. Ida Withers Harrison, of Lexington, who took as her subject "A Retrospect."

Mrs. Harrison gave a sketch of the life of Barton W. Stone, stating that he was born in Maryland in 1772 and came to Kentucky in 1792, working his way through Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee, preaching as he came. It took seven months for him to make the trip. She gave a vivid description of the memorable meeting of 1801, when between twenty and thirty thousand persons were in attendance at Cane Ridge, and when ministers of all denominations helped in the preaching. She described the "jerks" which overtook men and women during the meeting, and called attention to the fact that hundreds were converted.

Mrs. Harrison was followed by Dr. R. H. Miller, of Kansas City, whose subject was "Our Unfinished Task." Doctor Miller lauded the early work of Barton W. Stone, emphasizing the fact that at all times his religion was one of the heart and that he believed that salvation was possible for every man if he would forsake evil, be converted to the gospel of Jesus, be baptized, repent of his sins and take the gospel as his guide. He stressed the fact that so many souls were won by Stone because of his loving heart.

Lunch was served on the grounds by the woman's society of the Paris Christian church, the food being given by the various Christian churches in the county. Over seven hundred pounds of Lafayette coffee donated by the Parks & Sweeney Coffee Co., of Lexington, prepared and served under the supervision of their personal representative, Mrs. C. B. Harrison, of Lexington, formed a most refreshing part of the menu. A vote of thanks for Mrs. Harrison and the company was tendered in a resolution from the Woman's Society of the Paris church. There was plenty of food for everyone, and then plenty left over after all had been served.

After lunch Dr. A. W. Fortune, of Lexington, delivered an address on "Barton W. Stone's Contribution to Our Movement," giving the pioneer Kentucky minister credit for the death of Stone. The one was working in Kentucky while the other was working in Pennsylvania and Virginia, each preaching practically the same doctrine for many years before they met in Bourbon county, at Cane Ridge church, and there and at Concord, held meetings. Homer Carpenter, of Richmond, also spoke on the early history of the church.

A campaign was launched formally to raise $20,000 to convert the old Cane Ridge church into a permanent memorial for Barton W. Stone. It is proposed to restore the old church to its condition of 120 years ago and then erect a larger building to enclose the ancient structure. The plea for the memorial fund was made by the Rev. R. M. Hopkins, of St. Louis, secretary of religious education for the United Christian Missionary Society. Already $2,200 has been pledged. The remainder will be raised in a national campaign to be conducted soon.

On exhibition inside the church were many of the personal effects of Elder Stone, which the Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church had requested that Mrs. A. E. Morgan, of St. Louis, Mo., granddaughter of Elder Stone bring with her. As she was unable to attend the memorial, the relics were brought by Barclay Meader, editor of the Christian-Evangelist, of St. Louis.

The meeting was closed by the Rev. Mark Collis, of Broadway Christian church, Lexington, who, following a few remarks, called attention to the fact that Mrs. Sam Clay, who was present, was the granddaughter of William Rogers, who was for many years associated with Barton W. Stone and who lived and preached in that neighborhood.

Representatives of a Cincinnati moving picture corporation were present, and made a series of "close-up" and general views of the big gathering, the old church and the cemetery adjoining. These will be

NEWS OF THE COURTS

In the County Court Judge Geo. Batterton held Cash Crow to the grand jury on a charge of drawing a pistol on Charles Whaley during a balloons ascension in this city about two weeks ago.

Sheriff M. Peale Collier and Deputy Sheriff James Gibson arrested Roy Vansant, a young white man, of near Paris, on a charge of taking a bird dog, the property of J. Simms Wilson, of Paris, and selling it to an Ohio man. Following the loss of his dog, Mr. Wilson advertised in a Cincinnati paper, offering a reward for the dog's recovery. A few days later he received a letter from an Ohio man, stating that he had purchased a dog answering the description. Mr. Wilson went to Ohio, where he found the man had resold the dog to a party in West Virginia. Going to the West Virginia town he found the dog, which he recognized and proved his property. The latest owner being willing to relinquish any claims to the animal, the dog was restored to Mr. Wilson, who repaid to the West Virginia man the money he had paid out. The arrest of Vansant followed Mr. Wilson's return to Paris. Vansant will be given a hearing before County Judge Batterton Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Henry Thomason, of the county, was arrested Saturday charged with forging a check for $20 on the Mansfield & Jefferson Lumber Co., of Paris, by signing the name of A. B. Thomason, a prominent Lexington attorney. Thomason waived examining trial and was held to the November grand jury on $300 bond.

CARLISLE CHRISTIAN CHURCH CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

The congregation of the Carlisle Christian church is making extensive plans for the centennial celebration to be held October 5-8. The celebration will mark the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the church in Carlisle.

All of the preachers who have served this church who are now living have been invited to be present. Since the Christian church has been established in Carlisle there have been 25 ministers. John Rogers, the first pastor of the church, served 47 years, until his death in 1867. The present pastor is R. E. Elmore, who came from Phoenix, Ariz., last September. The church has a membership of more than seven hundred persons.

Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church, is on the program for an address at the afternoon session on Saturday, October 7.

HORSES KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Ernest Stone, farmer, residing on the Jackstown pike, about three miles from Paris, was driving a wheat drill, to which three horses were hitched abreast, when a flash of lightning came from what apparently was a clear sky, killing the three horses instantly.

Mr. Stone was not hurt or stunned by the lightning, and at first was unable to understand what had happened. Investigation showed that each of the animals had been killed by the shock, the lightning then passing along the iron tongue of the drill to the wooden swingle trees, where it leaped to the ground. The fact that Mr. Stone was holding the leather line in each hand, which acted as a non-conductor, probably saved his life.

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING.

At a special meeting of the City Council yesterday morning, the contract between the city and Louis Descognets & Co., of Lexington, for the resurfacing and reconstruction of South Main street, from Fourteenth to Twentieth streets, was signed. The contractors will get their machinery and material on the ground and begin the work at once. Should the work not be finished before the beginning of winter the thoroughfare will be put in condition to temporarily take care of traffic.

shown at the various theatres throughout Central Kentucky towns.

The Cane Ridge pilgrimage closed the convention, which had been in session in Paris since Monday afternoon. The delegates were profuse in their praise of Paris hospitality, and departed with good wishes for their hosts.

SUGGESTION TO THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

A Paris man who is very much interested in Bourbon county, and its points of interest, makes the suggestion that the Commercial Club should have a large sign painted and placed over both entrances to the old covered bridge spanning Stoner Creek, at the foot of Main street, bearing the words, "This Bridge Was Erected in 1833, by Louis Wernwag."

He further states that his suggestion was inspired by frequent inquiries made by tourists passing through Paris, who comment on the apparent old age of the structure. Louis Wernwag was in his day a noted civil engineer and bridge builder, who designed and constructed some of the notable bridges through this section, which have withstood the ravages of time and the stress of weather.

The suggestion is an excellent one, and should be carried out by the Commercial Club. Then, some day, perhaps, when the old relic is replaced by a modern steel structure, we may recall how the old bridge demonstrated the value of good material and thorough workmanship.

COTTINGHAM TRANSFERRED

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne T. Cottingham returned to Lexington and Paris, Saturday night from a honeymoon trip to Chicago, Milwaukee and other Northern cities. While in Chicago, Mr. Cottingham, formerly a member of the Lexington Leader staff, and more recently night editor for the Associated Press at Louisville, visited the headquarters of the Associated Press for the Central States, where he was located for several months, and was induced to abbreviate the honeymoon for a few hours in order to accept an assignment at Jefferson City, Mo., as State Associated Press editor. Mr. Cottingham left Sunday afternoon for his new post. Mrs. Cottingham will join him after a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Tompkins, in Lexington.

GRIDIRON WARRIORS TAKE THE FIELD

The Paris High School team was defeated Friday afternoon in the game played on Hancock Field with the Georgetown College freshmen by a score of 3 to 0. A place kick from the twenty-five yard line was the only score.

Paris had a much better team on the field Friday than was seen in action on the same field a week ago, and at times gained yard after yard only to lose the ball within striking distance of the goal. Deakin got away several times for ten to thirty yards run, bringing the fans to their feet.

The Georgetown team is a strong, well-drilled aggregation, and are much heavier than the locals. Paris deserves a great deal of credit for holding as well as they did. The locals played a good game to the very last.

Among the most notable games played on the gridiron field Saturday by Kentucky college teams were the following: Centre College, 21, Clemson, S. C., 0; Kentucky University, 16, Marshall, 0; Kentucky Wesleyan College, 7, Eastern Normal School, 0.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS

Auctioneer M. F. Kenney sold in front of the court house door yesterday morning for Master Commissioner O. T. Hinton, ninety-seven and one-quarter acres of land belonging to the N. H. Bayless estate, located on the Hume and Bedford pike, near Paris, to Geo. K. Redmon, for $165 an acre. The place has a number of improvements, including barns, on it.

Matt Lair purchased from Mrs. Julia Houston and the heirs of the late Joseph Houston, 330 acres of land, located at the intersection of the Clay and Kiser pike, and the Brentsville pike, for about $50,000. The land is well improved, with barns, a brick dwelling house, etc. Mr. Lair will move to and occupy the farm about March 1, 1923.

Judge H. Clay Howard, it was stated yesterday, will in the near future, begin the erection of a two-story frame apartment house on the site of the barber shop which was recently destroyed by fire on Tenth street. The new building will contain four apartments and will be modern in all respects.
